Support for BCLC Families

Community Incubator Leads

Community Incubator Leads (CILs) in each of the seven BCLC focus neighborhoods are trusted community-based or faith-based neighborhood organizations that provide prevention and intervention services to address the four leading causes of African American child death. Each of the CILs also serves as a host site for a Multi-Disciplinary Team that works to provide wraparound services for BCLC families.

Multi-Disciplinary Teams

The Multi-Disciplinary Teams (MDTs) are co-located county agencies that work in partnership with CIL staff, cultural brokers, crisis responders, and neighborhood-specific programming for children, youth and families to provide their families with support. The county agencies co-located in the CILs vary by neighborhood and need. In Meadowview, the county agencies providing services to families include:

- Department of Human Assistance (DHA)
- Department of Child, Family and Adult Services, Child Protective Services (CPS)
- Probation Department
- County CPS Cultural Broker
- Sacramento Employment and Training Agency
- Perinatal Support

The MDT Process

When families come to the CIL for assistance, they complete a BCLC MDT Intake Assessment. This assessment gathers information on what the family needs, what social services they are currently receiving, the level of urgency of their need, and who should “come to the table” to support them. This report displays some of this data (if available) to help link the needs in the community to the county services being delivered in the neighborhood.

Between July 2018 and June 2019, Sacramento County families in need completed a total of 320 BCLC MDT Intake Assessments. Of these intakes, 299 (93%) were completed by African American families.

In the Meadowview neighborhood, a total of 95 families completed a BCLC MDT Intake Assessment and 93 (98%) of these intakes were completed by African American families.

Income & Poverty

Why This Matters to the BCLC: Poverty is a fundamental determinant of health and well-being for families and their children. Pervasive poverty is linked to lower levels of child well-being. Children growing up in poverty are more likely to have low academic achievement, to drop out of school, and to have health, behavioral, social, and emotional problems. – Annie E. Casey Foundation

Employment

Why This Matters to the BCLC: Family economic success provides a critical foundation for healthy child development, which, in turn, relates to more positive outcomes in adulthood. Ongoing exposure to economic stress and hardship can negatively affect children's physical and mental health, academic achievement and social-emotional well-being. – Annie E. Casey Foundation

Housing

Why This Matters to the BCLC: Homelessness causes severe trauma to children and youth, disrupting their relationships, putting their health and safety at risk, and hampering their development. Homeless children are more likely than other children to experience hunger and malnutrition, and to develop physical and mental health problems. Emotional distress, developmental delays, and decreased academic achievement are also more common among this population. Many of these children and youth experience deep poverty, family instability, and exposure to domestic violence before becoming homeless, and homelessness increases their vulnerability to additional trauma. In addition to the risks faced by homeless children, including increased vulnerability to sexual exploitation, youth without homes are far more likely than their peers to be infected with HIV and have other serious health problems. – KidsData

Homeless Applications & Support | 2018

Measures the number and rate of unduplicated applications received for homeless singles (General Assistance, CalFresh, and Medi-Cal only) and homeless families (CalWORKs) (rates per 1,000 adults and 1,000 families respectively) and the number and rate of families enrolled and housed through the Housing Support Program during the study period between January 1-June 30, 2018 (rate per 1,000 families).

CalWORKs families in need of housing support go through an application process. Workers assess the family for CalWORKs temporary homeless assistance or refer to the appropriate housing program. Temporary homeless assistance is intended to address the family's immediate needs due to homelessness if they meet specific criteria. If CalWORKs families are homeless, they may be referred to the Housing Support Program which helps eligible families find and maintain permanent housing.

Food Security

Why This Matters to the BCLC: Food assistance programs, such as food stamps (i.e., CalFresh), the Supplemental Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), and the National School Lunch and Breakfast Programs, provide a safety net to help ensure that low-income children, expectant mothers, and families get adequate nutrition. These programs have been shown to reduce poverty, improve birth outcomes, and improve children’s health in general. Student participation in the National School Breakfast Program also is associated with improved school performance and cognitive functioning. – KidsData

Transportation

Why This Matters to the BCLC:

Transportation & Accessibility – Public transportation offers mobility to U.S. residents, particularly people without cars. Transit can help bridge the spatial divide between people and jobs, services, and training opportunities. – Be Healthy Sacramento

Transportation & Nutrition – The accessibility, availability, and affordability of healthy and varied food options in the community increase the likelihood that residents will have a balanced and nutritious diet. A diet composed of nutritious foods, in combination with an active lifestyle, can reduce the incidence of heart disease, cancer, and diabetes, and is essential to maintain a healthy body weight and prevent obesity. Low-income and underserved areas often have limited numbers of stores that sell healthy foods. People living farther away from grocery stores are less likely to access healthy food options on a regular basis and thus more likely to consume foods which are readily available at convenience stores and fast food outlets. – Be Healthy Sacramento

Transportation & Environment – The transportation choices that communities and individuals make have important impacts on health through items such as active living, air quality, and traffic crashes. The choices for commuting to work can include walking, biking, taking public transit, carpooling, or individuals driving alone, the last of which is the most damaging to the health of communities. In most counties, driving alone is also the primary form of transportation to work. – County Health Rankings

Health/Mental Health Care

Why This Matters to the BCLC: Health insurance for children is particularly important. To stay healthy, children require regular checkups, dental and vision care, and medical attention for illness and injury. Children with health insurance are more likely to have better health throughout their childhood and adolescence. They are more likely to receive required immunizations, fall ill less frequently, obtain necessary treatment when they do get sick, and perform better at school. Having health insurance lowers barriers to accessing care, which is likely to prevent the development of more serious illnesses. This is not only of benefit to the child but also helps lower overall family health costs. – Be Healthy Sacramento

Child Welfare

Why This Matters to the BCLC: Child abuse and neglect can have enduring physical, intellectual, and psychological repercussions into adolescence and adulthood. All types of child abuse and neglect have long lasting effects throughout life, damaging a child's sense of self, ability to have healthy relationships, and ability to function at home, at work, and at school. – Be Healthy Sacramento

Foster care is usually a result of the courts determining it is not safe for the child to remain at home, because of a risk of maltreatment, including neglect and physical or sexual abuse. Foster youth have higher rates of suspension and expulsions, are less likely to graduate from high school and attend college, are more to participate in high-risk behaviors, such as alcohol and drug use, and are more likely to become involved with gangs and the juvenile justice system. – Children Now

When a CPS referral is received, social service staff work to determine if the referral alleges abuse, neglect, or exploitation. Whenever a report indicates a need for protection, CPS will:

- Accept the case
- Intervene in the crisis, if required
- Apply Family Preservation & Support Services for some families
- Assess or identify problems, gather facts, and clarify problems
- Plan/provide services, set goals, identify resources and timeframes
- Document the case
- Terminate the case or transfer it to another program.

Approximately 12 months of services are provided to children who remain safely in the home while the family receives services.

By eliminating barriers and increasing access to services, CBs play a key role in preventing child abuse and neglect.

Addressing the Leading Causes of Death

Meadowview CIL Activities

The matrix below highlights some of the additional strategies and activities led by the Meadowview CIL to address each of the four leading causes of African American child death.

Leading Cause	CIL Activities
 Perinatal Conditions	Her Health First pregnancy coach provides education, resources and supports to pregnant African-American moms including transportation to appointments, safe sleep classes, and support groups. The CIL refers expecting parents to WellSpace Health for prenatal care and workshops on infant safe sleep, breastfeeding, car seat safety, etc.
 Infant Sleep-Related	Infant Safe Sleep training and free Pack 'n' Play cribs are provided to women in need.
 CAN Homicide	Students from 5 SCUSD schools receive out-of-school time programming. The CIL offers a mentoring program focused on young males in the Meadowview community. Fathers are encouraged to attend events with their sons and develop father-son bonds.
 3rd Party Homicide	Community Intervention Worker and a Community Outreach Worker focus on Violence Prevention, Intervention and Interruption by working with the most at-risk youth in the community. Hip-Hop-Heals (H3) is a culturally responsive program that engages youth in their own voice using modern media and the music of this generation, Rap/Hip Hop. The goal of H3 is to be a media-based, trauma-informed violence prevention/intervention program for urban youth. Youth learn to define ways community violence affects group member's lives; learn the complexities of the many forms of community trauma; practice strategies on how to manage the impacts of witnessing, being threatened by or participating in community trauma; and create and launch a community social justice project. Teens volunteer at community events in Meadowview. BCLC Youth Mentors work in conjunction with the WEAVE grant to provide a voice to domestic violence as a continuation of their PAR project.

The Steering Committee on Reduction for African American Child Deaths (RAACD) is funded by the County of Sacramento, City of Sacramento, First 5 Sacramento, Board of State and Community Corrections, Health Net, and the Obama Foundation, and is managed by The Center.
